Fifth Sunday of Lent

Fr. Jeremy writes... Passiontide

Those of you who are free to attend daily Mass will have noticed that the Lenten Gospel readings over the last week or so have been shifting towards the growing opposition to Jesus among the leaders of the people. They claim his healings are the work of the devil, they say he can't be a holy man because he heals on the sabbath, and they label him a blasphemer because of the way he speaks of his relationship with God. This last accusation contains the threat of the death penalty and slowly but surely we see events gaining momentum and moving towards the inevitable trial and death of Jesus.

That's why this end of Lent is called Passiontide because it prepares us for Holy Week and the more immediate events leading to Jesus' death on the cross. Traditionally this Sunday, the Fifth in Lent, was thus known as Passion Sunday. This title has now been transferred to what we popularly call Palm Sunday since the actual account of Jesus' passion is read on that day. We still cover the statues and crucifixes in church from this weekend until Good Friday, when the crosses are again unveiled, and the Easter Vigil when the other images are seen once again.

However, even in the Year A Gospel we are using in the parish, elements of what is to come are foreshadowed. As previously noted, the three great Gospels from John's account on the third, fourth and fifth Sundays in Year A, were used to prepare catechumens for their baptism at Easter. This weekend's final Gospel tells of the raising of Lazarus and would have provided powerful catechetical material for teaching the catechumens about Jesus' power over death. This would prepare them for the death of Jesus on Good Friday but reassure them of his power to conquer death demonstrated in his rising to new life on the third day. Moreover, they would be told that going down into the waters of baptism would be like dying to their old life, and coming up out of the water would mark their 'resurrection', transition to new life in Christ. Because they will be baptised into life with Jesus, even though they will die like any human being, nevertheless, they will rise to everlasting life with God by being grafted into Christ through baptism.

Passiontide -

Why Do We Veil Crucifixes and Statues?

As we enter Passiontide, the church embarks on a period of mourning in anticipation of the coming events of Christ's suffering, trial and death. The veiling follows an ancient tradition whereby people mourning the death of a loved one exchange brightly coloured clothes for black attire to symbolise solemnity and sorrow. Traditionally widows wore a black dress and veiled their faces - 'widows weeds' - to mourn the loss of a husband. In the same way, the Church veils her colourful images and (at one time) jewelled crosses to commemorate Christ's suffering in a special way.

Chrism Mass

Celebrating the Fullness of Priestly Vocation – Taken from the Portsmouth Vocations Prayer Newsletter for April.

On Tuesday of Holy Week (15th April @ 11am) there is a special Mass at St John's Cathedral that requires the participation of the entire Diocese. Here, all our ordained clergy are called to attend and will renew their ordination vows.

Another important aspect of the Chrism Mass is the blessing of the holy oils (the Oil of the Sick, the Oil of Catechumens and Sacred Chrism). The Sacred Chrism, in particular, is breathed upon by the Bishop in an act emulating Christ's actions as He breathed upon His apostles to "receive the Holy Spirit." These are the same oils used in all the other sacraments such as Baptism, Confirmation and the Anointing of the Sick. The oils are intended for an entire year and are taken back by priests to their respective parishes.

Indeed, it is a very special service for the men who have decided to heed the call of the priestly vocation and for those who are ordained as deacons too.

If you are considering the vocation yourself or even just want to pray for our priests, then do join us at the Cathedral. All are welcome!

Assist Us to live, Not to Die

The third reading of Kim Leadbeater's Assisted Suicide Bill is due to come up in the House of Commons on Friday April 25th. There is still a chance of stopping this bill making law by persuading our MPs to vote against it. It would need only 28 new MPs to do this. Please help by taking one of the cards in the narthex, signing and sending it to your MP, Suella Braverman. The cards also give the arguments for opposing the bill.

Women's Monday Evening Group

Everyone is welcome to join the 'Women's Monday Evening Group' for Mass on Monday 14 April @ 7pm. Refreshments after in the parish centre. All Welcome!

Passover Celebration at St. Joseph Church, Havant

Holy Places Second Collection on Good Friday

Portsmouth Roman Catholic Diocese is raising money for Christians in the Holy Land.

The Pontifical Good Friday Collection supports the Christian community in the Middle East. This last year has been particularly challenging for this small community which seeks 'to be the salt, light and leaven of the Gospel' in the region, often living in difficult circumstances.

"May this year's collection pro Terra Sancta be an opportunity for everyone not to ignore the difficult situation of our brothers and sisters of the Holy Places but rather to lighten their burdens." – Leonardo Card. Sandri. Thank you for your support."

Rosary with Bishop Philip

Over ten years ago Bishop Philip sent everyone in the Diocese of Portsmouth his Rosary CD. The recording is of the Bishop praying the Rosary with students from St Peter's School, Bournemouth, and includes all the Mysteries of the Rosary. If you no longer have yours, or no longer use CDs, it's available free in digital format. Goto: www.soundcloud.com/user-598098600/sets/holy-rosary-with-bishop-philip-egan for use in your car or around the home to download to your phone, computer, or other digital device. The Rosary developed in the High Middle Ages period and is a wonderful prayer for us to say, praying to Our Lord for protection from all danger, sickness and evil. If you need help in saying the Rosary, goto www.mailchi.mp/portsmouthdiocese/the-holy-rosary-2024 for a simple explanation. There are many intentions to pray for, especially for the Holy Father, for peace in Ukraine and the Middle East and for Vocations to the Sacred Priesthood. Our Lady of the Rosary, pray for us.

Admittance to Hospital?

When a Catholic is admitted to hospital, the family should ensure that the Catholic Chaplaincy is contacted so that appropriate support can be given. It is suggested that the patient have a note to give to hospital staff on admission, notifying staff that they are Catholic and would appreciate the Catholic Chaplaincy service. This could be followed up by a telephone call from the family to the ward to ensure the request is actioned. When a person is due to go into hospital, please also let your parish priest know so that he can administer the Sacrament of the Sick where appropriate.
